

Should I get a Reading?

Most Mediums are fakes. I'll try it but expect the worst.

I'm curious about the process but feeling cautious. What is this all about?

Are your arms folded? Did you just say, "I'm not giving anything away? or "I can't wait to prove myself right!" ?

Did you just say, "I am afraid of what might come for me. I feel quite closed and anxious about the process." ?

Did you just set an intention to open your heart and trust that Divine Love has your back?

Does your energy and mindset give Spirit permission to work through me? Do you give permission?

Are you interested in building your trust in this process? It's okay to say no.

Well done listening to your heart. Let's chat another time. Meanwhile, feel free to immerse yourself On Spirits' Wings and enjoy what resonates there.

Let's Chat through email to find our next step.
